

II. WHO DILUTES?

Before there was that form of yours
The world has been turning
Labored on – by necessity, or so is said, or used to be
Now so to an end
What goal is in sight
Whose?
It is your turn to take up the chisel (as has been done by many before)
Is it for you? The world? Or the so-said world?
Supposedly, you'll get to choose
To get to the top of the world is to change it
Again, to what end?
And to this end, what do you see when you get there?
At that end, you are there with who?
The so-said world
The world
You

What's to be said of what's said to be beneath you?

Will the world keep turning?